

The Strength of a Large Firm.
The Flexibility of a Small Company.

Stockman Kast Ryan + Co. is the largest locally-owned Certified Public Accounting firm in southern Colorado, and we are consistently recognized among the best. Our staff is an experienced and credentialed group of individuals that collectively provides our clients with comprehensive capabilities, technical proficiency and innovative thinking.

Yet we are just as concerned about the relationships we have with our clients and employees as we are with the work itself. We are flexible enough to provide our clients with personalized service, and we recognize the value of each employee as an integral part of the firm.

The Bottom Line

Stockman Kast Ryan + Co. is always looking for qualified, enthusiastic individuals who can contribute to and participate in our long-term success.

And we can help create success in your career. In addition to competitive compensation and benefits, we offer each of our employees a high level of responsibility, challenge and reward. You'll conduct a wide range of meaningful assignments; you'll have real-world interaction with clients; you'll have access to and work alongside our partners; and you'll have the opportunity to participate in leadership development and continuing education as we grow together.

Stockman Kast Ryan + Co. offers a wide variety of tax, audit and business consulting services to individuals and businesses throughout southern Colorado. We have more Certified Public Accountants on staff than any other southern Colorado firm. And we have the widest range of industry experience – from small businesses and high net worth individuals to healthcare and not-for-profit organizations; from construction and real estate to manufacturing and technology.

The Culture

We foster and facilitate employee exposure in all areas of the firm – in the types of services you'll provide as well as interaction with clients. We promote a spirit of cooperation and teamwork, and you'll have the opportunity to work directly with partners and managers. We embrace up-to-date technology and procedures.

We provide and support in-house as well as external continuing education. We nurture entrepreneurial spirit and recognize efforts that go above and beyond; we value ethics and integrity; and we promote professional associations and community activities.

While we are always professional, we are also friendly and fun. We make it a point to take time out for company-sponsored social activities throughout the year such as holiday parties, post-busy season parties and summer socials.

We also understand the need for balance between work and personal life, and do our best to minimize seasonal long hours and related pressures. And when personal needs arise, you will find understanding and the flexibility to accommodate your circumstances.

We make every effort to provide you with a meaningful and rewarding career.

The Rewards

SKR+Co. offers a full complement of benefits that include a 401(k) plan; health and life insurance; holidays, vacation and sick time; short-term and long-term disability; and flexibility for time off.

Additionally, we believe our support of continuing education is among the best available anywhere; it can include payment of exam fees, paid time for sitting for the CPA exam, a bonus for passing the CPA exam within your first year and even payment for a graduate tax degree from Denver University.
