What makes your business stand out?

“That’s easy. The people we have. They are terrific people. We train them a lot, but they are all also very competent. Our main focus is client service; it’s our main goal. I’m not surprised, but I am often very happy about how they go the extra mile to serve people. That’s the trouble with this business — in accounting, your assets walk out the door every night. I could go on and on.” — Dave Kast, partner
